Hi Evan and Andrew

I own the house at 4011 92nd Avenue SE (since 2002) and have been informed my property is slated for a small cell site.

I'm writing you to reconsider the location. I walk my dogs in the east Seattle neighborhood along 61st and we pass a cell site daily.

The site generates a loud humming sound and I'm sure it can't be emitting anything healthy. I sleep with my bedroom window open and a loud humming noise from a cell site will be a problem.

On 92nd Avenue SE and along 40th there are quite a few houses that are year round rentals. Please consider these other locations.

4057 92nd - House on the corner of 92nd/41st, ideal tower location corner on the corner of the high school parking lot

4023 92nd Avenue SE

4029 92nd Avenue SE

9000 40th - These two house are at the top of Gallagher Hill on the east side of the 3-way stop.

9010 40th

4003 92nd (the run down house on the corner) is also a renter and the house is upside down with the bank and IRS.

A cell tower across the street from this house on 40th and Brierwood Lane. Brierwood lane also has their utility poles centered on a median Island away from the houses, this might also be a consideration.

Thank you for your time and I hope the cell site slated for my property will be moved.
